

Dreamkeepers — Arena Tower Art

Generated 2026-09-05. Prompts for the Arena screen's new tower redesign.

What changed: the Arena screen no longer shows a flat list of 100 floor rows. Floors are now grouped into the 5 existing ArenaTier bands (Bronze/Silver/Gold/Platinum/Diamond, 20 floors each) under a wide zone-banner header per tier, with a decorative connecting line running down the whole screen — so scrolling the list reads as climbing distinct levels of one physical tower, base to summit. Right now each banner falls back to a tier-colored gradient since none of these 5 images exist yet.

What's needed: 5 wide/landscape backdrop illustrations, one per tier, each showing that tier's section of the tower structure itself (architecture/environment, not a character portrait) — rendered behind a 96pt-tall header bar with the zone name and floor range overlaid in white text at the bottom-left, so keep the top two-thirds of each image visually clear and let it darken naturally toward the bottom (or trust the app's own gradient overlay, already applied in code) so that text stays readable.

How to use this list: generate each image with any AI image tool (prompt is under 480 characters), ideally at a wide aspect ratio (e.g. 16:9 or wider), save as PNG, and send the 5 files back — I'll wire them into Assets.xcassets myself (same imageset + Contents.json process used for the existing art). The "Target filename" column is the exact imageset name the code looks up — matching it exactly isn't required from you, just tell me which tier each image is for.
